"Strong Tradition"

We are honoured to be asked to write this forward, and even more so, to officiate at Hampsthwaite Feast this year. Chris has lived in the village for over 50 years. One of his early memories of the Feast celebrations is that of participating in the fancy dress competition during the 1960s. The entrants paraded on the back of Mr Robinson's milk can lorry, around the village.

This tradition holds strong today!

The indoor competitions and the sports have always been an integral part of the feast, keenly contested by different generations, over the years.

This tradition holds strong today!

The weather plays an all important part in the festivities. Liz remembers the emergency contingency plan put in operation in 1987 when heavy rain "stopped play". The Feast Parade was diverted to the Dale Hall for indoor fancy dress judging.

This tradition holds strong today!

The Feast weekend celebration has been enhanced by the introduction of the Hampsthwaite Show, the Pet Show, the Cross Country Run, and the many features familiar to everyone today. People of Hampsthwaite have helped over the years, to provide the entertainment. They must certainly be thanked and congratulated on their efforts.

This tradition holds strong today!

Thank you for all your efforts. Hampsthwaite Feast 2009.

Best wishes to all who support this strong tradition!

Chris and Liz Hardcastle

The Feast & Hampsthwaite

Welcome to Hampsthwaite Feast 2009

Some will recall the times when the weather was so bad the whole Feast was held in Dale Hall and, more recently, we have memories of running for cover under the marquees outside the Memorial Hall - and the band played on.

But this year the forecasters are predicting a "BBQ Summer" so we can all look forward to another great village event. One of my fondest memories, I think it was 2004, was looking across the tables of our Saturday night BBQ on a balmy summer evening with what seemed the whole village sitting, eating, chatting and enjoying a drink as we listened to '65 Mustang with a guest appearance by the keyboard player from a group called The Diamonds.

Well, history may well repeat itself, because this year we welcome The Diamonds and they feature a guitarist from the now retired '65 Mustang. The Saturday BBQ is important to the Feast because it brings the community together, getting to know new neighbours for example, as we share a BBQ.

Let us all dream again of that balmy summer evening with coloured lights under the trees. Please give your full support for this and all Feast events - buy your tickets from Sally Haigh and arrive early to ensure a place.
